Proposal

      For this research project, I am proposing a senior friendly mode that elderly internet user could use when using various website. This feature would be displayed at the top of the webpage that the user would be currently visiting. From there, text would automatically enlarged and the overall user interface would simplified in a way that is easier use for the user. It will be hoped that by making facing these two challenges for users in this demographic, the overall user experience for these users will be improved upon.
